Your Music Experience - "Sounds as intimate as it sounds openly honest. Blending a story-telling style with an admittance narrative"*

Bukky Sky is set to release "Amazing", the 1st single from his debut EP "Brave In Love", Feb 2nd 2021. Produced by collaborator Rob Flynn (of Oslo parks, Gia Ford and Yumi and the Weather), Bradford born / London based Bukky Sky showcases his talent as a songwriter-come-cultural commentator.

In a world where Instagram sees us exhibiting our best sides, the half-Nigerian half-English singer controversially asks us to look at our shadow side. Exposing something that nobody is talking about, "Amazing" looks at the darker side of romance, asking the questions: What happens when love is not the compass, but self interest? Why do boys use girls? When is "The Game" no longer fun to play? Are undrawn boundaries a form of self-neglect?

Broody, the song builds into a strong, guitar driven chorus "Its just another girl in the night-time / It's just another girl". Amongst the twists and turns "Amazing" climaxes with a 1-minute spoken word confession, accompanied by a hearty string-section and raging symphonic lead guitar.

In this era of Hinge-Tinder Ghosting, where disconnecting is so easy and authentic connection can be so hard, law graduate Bukky looks at the intention behind sexual relations. Citing The Smiths, The Last Shadow Puppets/ Arctic Monkeys and Bob Dylan as musical influences, Bukky started writing music in Brighton with band Maya, releasing EP "In Blue". "I've always been attracted to truth, in all its beauty, in all its ugliness. I wrote this song when I was ready to turn a corner and cut away the bullshit from my character".

The music video is movie-like – 'classy and modern – with hazy old school cinema visuals. "Drawing on inspiration from David Lynch's Blue Velvet we wanted to depict the fallen woman, played by Narin Oz. "Amazing" ends with advisory words: "Trust Yourself. Trust that you are whole. Get to know yourself. Love yourself, and do not use the love of another."

With the popular sound bites of "self-care" and "self-love" on everybody's lips and in an age where mental health, exasperated by lockdown is a reoccurring concern for all, Bukky invites us to meet ourselves just as we are.
